As per Exhibit 1, the Notice was given Respondent via certified United States mail, return receipt requested, on May 1, 2003. Further, the Notice was sent to Respondent's last known home address and to Respondent's last known business address. As the hearing on the Notice occurred, on June 18, 2003, a date more than 45 days after Respondent was given notice thereof, the Notice that the Department served upon Respondent was properly served.

2. Section 11.F(1) of the Act provides that the Secretary of State shall not undertake any action or impose a fine against a registered salesperson of securities within the State of Illinois for a violation of the Act without first providing the salesperson an opportunity for hearing upon not less than 10 days notice given by personal service or registered mail or certified mail, return receipt requested, to the person concerned.

In fact, one of the return receipts for the certified mailings of the Notice, wherein Respondent himself acknowledges receipt of the Notice via his signature thereon, was received by the Department well in advance of hearing, having been received 40 days before the hearing date. Hence, as the Department gave proper notice of the hearing to Respondent, the Department has personal jurisdiction over Respondent.

4. The Department offered exhibits, identified above, each of which was received and admitted into evidence, a proper record of all proceedings having been made and preserved as required.
5. No outstanding petitions, motions, or objections exist as to this proceeding.
6. At all material and relevant times, Respondent was registered with the Secretary of State as a salesperson.
7. On January 29, 2003, without admitting or denying the findings alleged by the S.E.C. as per their Order, Respondent consented to the entry thereof, the Order stating, in part (in its section entitled "Background"), that:

During the period April 1997 through November 1997, Respondent engaged in fraudulent sales practices in the accounts of five customers at W.J. Nolan. His activities included churning, unauthorized trading, and unsuitable trading.

Respondent made one or more trades without the customer's authority in the accounts of four of the customers. Respondent also purchased certain, highly speculative, thinly traded micro cap securities priced below $5.00 per share in the accounts of four of the customers. Respondent failed to disclose the risks of these investments to the customers. These investments were unsuitable in light of the financial situations and investment objectives of the customers.

Respondent also engaged in churning in the accounts of three of the customers. Respondent exercised defacto control over the accounts of these three customers. The annualized turnover ratios in the three accounts ranged, from 7 to 15.5 and the annualized break-even rates of return ranged from 66.3% to 155.1%. The trading in these accounts was excessive in light of the customers' investment objectives and financial needs. This excessive trading was also unsuitable for these customers.

Respondent acted with scienter. Respondent knowingly or recklessly engaged in the fraudulent sales practices described above for the purpose of generating commissions. Respondent earned $20,509.00 in commissions from these fraudulent transactions, and the customers incurred realized and unrealized losses totaling $92,746.00. Respondent knowingly or recklessly disregarded the customers' financial situations, investment objectives, and interests for his own financial gain.

W.J. Nolan maintained certain required customer account records that contained false information in violation of Section 17(a) of the Exchange Act and Rule 17a-3 thereunder. By failing to make and keep certain required records containing information that is true and correct, Respondent knowingly provided substantial assistance to W.J. Nolan in its violations.

As a result of the conduct described above, Respondent willfully violated Section 17(a) of the Securities Act, Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 thereunder, which prohibit fraudulent conduct in the offer and sale of securities and in connection with the proposed offer or sale of securities.

As a result of the conduct described above, Respondent caused and willfully aided and abetted W.J. Nolan's violations of section 17(a) of the Exchange Act and Rule 17a-3 thereunder, which require that broker-dealers registered with the S.E.C. make and keep current certain books and records.

4. By virtue of the foregoing, Respondent's registration as a salesperson in the State of Illinois is subject to revocation pursuant to Section 8.E(1)(k) of the Act.
